50 years of experience and 200 years of family tradition.

I am comfortable demonstrating within a hundred year old span. (1760's to 1860's) French and Indian war period up to the American War between the States with appropriate tentage and clothing. Demonstrations are done in period correct clothing over an open fire. A hideaway propane set up is also available for areas where a real fire is not appropriate.

Living History in Action

I have many times watched grandmas and grandpas get that dreamy look in their eyes as they remember times past. Often their reminisces lead to younger visitors asking if their own Grandmothers made soap. This opens the door to more family stories that may have never
